

STILLMAN'S

The Store 7
116-118

SOCIETY

HAVE RETURNED FROM AN EUROPEAN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McNabb of Wallace avenue, returned Saturday afternoon from a three months' trip abroad. They returned on the steamer Lusitania, which landed in New York Friday morning, and spent the day there, returning home Saturday. While absent they visited the different points of interest in Italy, Switzerland, France, England, Scotland, Ireland, and enjoyed the trip immensely. They were aboard the Lusitania when it scored its wonderful, new trans-Atlantic record the latter part of last week.

At Darlington.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Metcalf of ing points in the country where the day was quietly spent.

Kildoo's at McConnells Mills, always has its share of Sunday visitors and among those there yesterday were Misses Florence Kennedy, Mabel Frew, Sue Grace, Rachel Morehead, and Messrs. Edward Chambers, Edward Stoner, Frank R. Moore and Glenn Anderson.

Quinn-Boyle Wedding.

Of interest in social circles Wednesday will be the marriage of Miss Mamie Quinn and Mr. Thomas Boyle of this city, which will take place at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's church.

Both young people have hosts of friends throughout the city who will be interested in the announcement of their wedding. Father Maher will officiate.

SOCIAL EVENTS

FOR THIS WEEK

With the First of September at the beginning of the fall gayety near at hand, the social calendar beginning to show more events importance. A number of family unions are scheduled for this week and other events are also planned.

The social calendar for this week is as follows:

Monday.

The Paul Laurence Dunbar reading circle meets with Mrs. S. Faulkner of Harrison street.

The Boozel-Nelson-Boozel reunion takes place at West Sunbury.

Tuesday.

The Central W. C. T. U. meets